JANUARY 2008

GUILD NEWS

From the President

Happy Year 2008! This is the year for the guild to become a mean, lean, and green working machine. If you can receive the guild newsletter on your computer, please do that to help save some trees and to eliminate the monthly postage fees. Call Becky Stevens, our newsletter writer extraordinaire, to make the switch to email if you have not indicated that on your membership application. Thank you for your help.

Throughout 2008, we will have the Rose Room until 4pm on our meeting days every month, except for December 2008. With the extended hours to use the room, we have opportunities to work and share project skills during the afternoons of our regular meeting. Think green, save the fuel and continue learning and creating after the meetings. Bring your lunch and stay awhile. The Spinners Web will be starting up again. Bring your spinning wheel and spin some yarns. Bring your knitting projects to work on in the afternoon. If you need help getting started knitting, there are several guild members who could help. Let me know if you need assistance finding someone for knitting help.

After the short board meeting, I will hold a session on basic wet felting. You may choose to participate and make a small vessel in an hour. Wool fleece has been donated that you may use, or you may bring your own wool. I will have enough of the felting supplies to share, but request that you bring a small tray (cookie sheet with a lip so that water can be contained) to work on and a soup or vegetable can to shape the vessel on. If someone would like to start a weavers' study group, the afternoon of the regular meeting date would be the time to get it underway. The Rose Room is large enough for a corner of weavers as well as the spinners, felters, and knitters. Go for it!

Thank you for your past participation and contribution in the guild. I look forward to another good year of fun and learning in the lean, mean, and green guild.

Carol Ann Parker, president

Creative Hand Meeting

Creative Hand is an annual show/sale held the weekend before Thanksgiving. Our new location at the Sylvester Powell Community Center in Mission has proven to be a successful choice. This year, our sales were up and our loyal customers had positive comments about the show.

As we look forward to future years and anticipated growth of the Creative Hand show, we will need discussion from the participants and interested parties about that future growth. Therefore, we will be having our discussion meeting for Creative Hand participants and interested parties on February 2, 2008:
